Our Commitment to Accessibility

Redfern Media is committed to providing a website experience that is accessible to the widest possible audience, including people with disabilities. We work to make redfernmedia.com usable with assistive technologies and accessible across a range of devices, browsers, and input methods.

Our accessibility efforts are guided by the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1, Level AA. We use these guidelines as a framework for evaluating and improving the accessibility of our website.

Accessibility Measures

Redfern Media considers accessibility as part of the design, development, content, and maintenance of redfernmedia.com. Our efforts may include improving keyboard navigation, page structure and headings, text alternatives for meaningful images, form labels and instructions, color contrast, focus visibility, link purpose, responsive behavior, and compatibility with commonly used assistive technologies.

We periodically review the website and may update content, templates, components, or third-party integrations to improve accessibility and usability.

Third-Party Content and Services

Some areas of redfernmedia.com may include content, tools, embedded media, or services provided by third parties. While we seek to work with providers that support accessible experiences, Redfern Media may not control the accessibility of third-party content or platforms. If you encounter an accessibility barrier involving third-party content accessed through our website, please contact us so we can assist where reasonably possible.

Accessibility Feedback and Assistance

If you experience difficulty accessing any part of redfernmedia.com, encounter an accessibility barrier, or need information from the website in an alternative format, please contact us. We welcome accessibility feedback and will make reasonable efforts to provide assistance and address reported barriers.
